Presidency Message:

As I was reading our “Come Follow Me” assignment last week, the study guide I use had a quote that I would like to share. This is along with the scripture in Section 18 verse 10 of the Doctrine and Covenants. “Remember the worth of souls is great in the sight of God”.

Sister Carol F. McConkie in her October 2015 conference talk stated the following: “Whether we are age 8 or 108, each of us is “precious in (His) sight.” He loves us. We have a divine nature, and we each have a glorious work to do. (We) may discover our individual and eternal worth by acting in accordance with our divine purpose in mortality. Through test and trial, even through fear and in the midst of despair, we have valiant hearts. We are resolved to do our part. We are here to serve a righteous cause. In this cause... we are all valued. We are all needed.”

We love each of you and hope you know how valued and loved you are. It is such a privilege to work and get to know each of you. How we love each of your “valiant” hearts.

Quote of the Month

“If we are not faithful and obedient, we can transform the God-given blessing of prosperity into a prideful curse that diverts and distracts us.”

- Elder David A. Bednar
