Presidency Message

Dear Sisters:

Last weekend was so wonderful as we were able to watch five sessions of General Conference. Hearing from our Prophet, Apostles, the General Authorities and incredible women, was indeed an uplifting two day feast of inspirational teachings and counsel.

While attending BYU, I enrolled in a class “Teachings of the Living Prophets”. Our professor taught us that we have a responsibility to devour these conference talks once they were published in the Ensign, and then to study them repeatedly. Today, we have the privilege of having them available online almost immediately after the conference. Isn’t it wonderful that we can read, listen and watch all these messages at our leisure.

I encourage each of you to take the time to study these talks and to feel individual enlightenment and inspiration as you continuously learn from these messages.

My love to you,
Caroline
