Presidency Message

“Every one of our paths is different, yet we walk them together.” Reyna L. Aburto

This quote speaks volumes to me as I have the opportunity to visit with you and learn of your challenges, hardships, trials, victories, successes and joyful living. I am grateful that we are walking each other home, and are able to support one other as the bumps and dips in the road can make it difficult to keep walking.

Thank you for being who you are and for the service you continue to render as ministering sisters, and as sisters of the Relief Society. Your love and concern for each other is Christlike and demonstrates you are the “hands” of the Savior in your love and service.

“Wherefore, be faithful; stand in the office which I have appointed unto you; succor the weak, lift up the hands which hang down, and strengthen the feeble knees.” D&C 81:5

With my love to each and everyone New of you,
Caroline
